Outfly Brings End to Squire Days

During the early hours of Outfly Tuesday, sophomores Larry Pleggenkuhle and Gary Tilleros patrol the lines of buttoning frosh at the Cedar River.

Church Service Today Climaxes Conference

A closing worship service brought an end to a two-day meeting of the 29th annual Lutheran Faculties Conference at 11:30 today.

About 140 educators from Lutheran colleges in the United States and Canada were present for the conference, which opened Friday afternoon. Chaplain Herman Diers led the opening worship service.

"WHAT IS Quality Higher Education?," the topic of the conference, was dealt with by featured speakers Dr. Winslow R. Hatch and Dr. Jaroslav Pelikan.

Dr. Hatch is director of the Clearinghouse of Studies on Higher Education, Division of Higher Education of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. He spoke to the group yesterday afternoon and again this morning.

Dr. Pelikan is professor of the History of Christian Thought at Yale University Divinity School, New Haven, Conn. He addressed the conference at a banquet last evening.

GROUP DISCUSSIONS were held in various locations on campus yesterday. They were divided into sections for English, social studies, natural sciences, physical sciences, religion and philosophy, fine arts, administrators and board members.

Raymond Norheim, chairman of the planning committee here, said of the conference, "It was designed to establish a greater harmony between schools of different Lutheran synods."

Verlyn Smith, from Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S.D., presided over the conference.

Four Plays Are Slated For Theatre

A variety of productions will be presented by the Wartburg College Theatre during the school year, under the direction of John Gill, Speech Department.

The season will begin with Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," which will run Nov. 4-7. An extra performance is slated for Nov. 4 for the benefit of a visiting conference.

THIS PLAY was written in 1953 and is a take-off on the McCarthy hearings. Its setting is Salem, Mass., during the time of the witch trials.

Next production will be Dec. 17 for a special Christmas convocation.

On Jan. 7, 8 and 9 the comedy "Lo and Behold" by John Patrick will be presented. Patrick has written such masterpieces as "The Teahouse of the August Moon" and "The Hasty Heart."

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS Week will be highlighted by the presentation of two plays under one bill. They will be "The Zoo Story" by Edward Alber and "The Lesson" by Eugene Ionesco.

A musical, to be held May 8 and 9, will complete the season. As usual, the musical will be produced in conjunction with the Castle Singers.

World-Wide Service To Be Held Sunday

Tomorrow has been designated as Worldwide Communion Sunday. The Campus service will begin at 10 a.m. instead of the usual 8:30 a.m. Communion Service. There will be one service instead of two. In accordance with this special day, the theme of the sermon will be "Participating in the Body of Christ."

Pastor Herman Diers of the College Congregation, commented, "Communion will be celebrated in the Lutheran tradition here on the campus. Students who are not Lutheran are advised to consult with me in their preparation for the Sacrament."

Alpha Chi Adds New Members

Thirty new members have been approved for election to Wartburg's Iowa Alpha Chapter of Alpha Chi, national honorary scholarship society.

Twenty-five of the initiates will be installed as junior members and five as senior members. They will join 20 other students who were advanced from junior to senior membership this fall.

PURPOSE OF Alpha Chi is to emphasize and recognize scholarship. Approval for election to the society is given by the faculty. Academic requirements include being in the upper 10th of the junior of senior class.

New junior members include Ruth Bruning, Bruning, Neb.; Walter Buenning, Parkston, S.D.; Laura Gade, Sumner; Eleanore Gerdes, Strawberry Point; William Glitz, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Donna Huntley, Cedar Falls; Anne Hazlewood, Markesan, Wis.; and Susan Kell, Mosinee, Wis.

Others are Dale Max, Waverly; Diane Meier, Waverly; Gerene Meyer, Berlin, Wis.; Faber Miller, Bristow; Conrad Muehling, Beatrice, Neb.; Barbara Nelson, St. Paul, Minn.; Ronald Nelson, Fargo, N.D.; and Marilee Neptun, Peoria, Ill.

DIANNE ELLISON PEICH, Waverly; Michael Peich, Waverly; Kathryn Piotter, Fond du Lac, Wis.; Marie Post, Flanagan, Ill.; Lois Reyelts, Rock Rapids; Chris Schmidt, Waverly; Phyllis Smith, Chester; Charlene Tutton, Buffalo Center; and William Weiblen, Dubuque, are also new junior members.

New senior members are Diane Anderson, Garner; George Curtis, Waverly; David Hutson, Sibley, Ill.; LaVonne Kragel, Hampton; and Dorothy Kvarve, Davenport.

Members who were advanced to senior membership include John Adams, Racine, Wis.; David Andreae, Strawberry Point; Barbara Bose, Dumas, Tex.; Terry Dahlquist, Cosmos, Minn.; Darrel Gerrietts, Akron; Albert Goldammer, Corsica, S.D.; and Harry Jebsen, Blue Island, Ill.

OTHERS ADVANCED were Elizabeth Kalkwarf, Champaign, Ill.; Joanne Kinsinger, Ottumwa; Brian Kruger, Waverly; Judith Lanaghan, Clinton; Katherine Lewellan, Cedar Falls; Donna Meyer, Anchor, Ill.; James Miller, Tripoli; Nancy Rahn, Wausau, Wis.; and Kathryn Schroder, West Union.

Judith Slade, Mason City; Keith Tomlinson, Tama; Barbara Uchtorff, Davenport; and Carolyn Wulff, Canova, S.D., were also advanced to senior membership.

Casagrande To Be Speaker For Tuesday's Convocation

Convocation speaker for Tuesday will be Dr. Joseph Casagrande, head of the department of anthropology at the University of Illinois, Champaign. He will speak on the subject of "Man's Cultural Environment."

Dr. Casagrande is currently president of the American Ethnological Society and a member of the Board of Directors of the Social Science Research Council.

HE HAS ALSO been a member of the Social Science Research Council Committee on Linguistics and Psychology, a member of the executive board of the American Anthropological Association and a member of the Behavioral Sciences Fellowship Panel of the National Institute of Mental Health.

In addition to studies on cultural anthropolpgy and training in the social sciences, Dr. Casagrande has published numerous articles on ethnolinguistics and psycholinguistics.

A DISCUSSION GROUP will follow with Dr. Casagrande in the Conference Room of the Student Union. The Rev. August Baetke, Sociology Department, will serve as moderator. Any interested student may attend.

Thursday's convocation will feature a debate between the state representatives of the Young Democrats and Young Republicans. They will discuss issues of the upcoming national election.

Student Teachers Play New Roles

BY KARYL EHLERS

The fate for which every education student awaits, whether in the elementary or secondary department, has confronted over fifty Wartburg students since the beginning of the fall semester. The inevitable is, of course, student teaching.

Student teachers are on the job for nine weeks. This period includes one to two weeks of observation preceding the teaching period, the actual taking over of classes, and the observation period at the close of the session.

ALTHOUGH THE term "student teaching" may mean a vacation from classes for the uninformed, it connotes lesson plans, unit plans, correcting papers, late nights, and some shaky nerves to those involved.

Elementary student teachers have been placed in all of Waverly's grade schools. These students teach for a full day and carry no other classes at college. Their adviser is Miss Stella M. Austerud, in charge of the elementary teacher curriculum at Wartburg College.

Teaching at the Carey School are LaVonne Hendershot, grade two; Marcia Rench, grade three; and Joyce Snavely, grade four. Those teaching at Irving School are Eileen Tagge Payne, second grade; Kathy Schroder, third grade; Mary Totsch, fourth grade; and Ronda Ludvigson, Pam Whitney, Larry Moth and Mary Homan, fifth grade.

JUDY SLADE, Mary Ann Herder and Jan Howard teach grades one, two and four, respectively, at the Lincoln School. Connie Gaard teaches third grade at the Southeast School.

Teaching at the West Cedar School are Nancy Petersen, kindergarten; Barb Uchtorff, grade one; and Marlys Lubbert, grade two. Joanne Kinsinger and Sharon Hanke are both teaching sixth grade at the junior high school.

Six student teachers have been placed at St. Paul's Lutheran School. They are Mary Hansen, first grade; Gwen Parlin, second grade; Barb Bischoff, third grade; Mary Coxey, fourth grade; and Carol Suckow, fifth grade.

Also at St. Paul's is Carol Arendt, teaching junior high English in the seventh and eighth grades. Advising these students is Dr. Ernest E. Yunghans.

JUNIOR AND senior high school student teachers, under the supervision of Dr. Herbert Max, have been placed in the Waverly schools as well as in schools in surrounding communities.

Some of these students teach for an entire day, while others teach for part of the day as well as attend college classes.

Teaching in the Waverly-Shell Rock Senior High School are Barb Bose and Kathe Lewellan, English; Russell Leitz, biology; Barb Matthias, Shirley Meilke and Gary Medlang, business education; and Jan De Wall, history.

THOSE AT THE Waverly Junior High School are Karen Elwood and Joanne Johnson, English; and Elaine McIntosh, mathematics. Dan Moeller is teaching English at the Shell Rock Junior High. At Waverly-Shell Rock are Sue Larson and Lois Schlachtenhaufen, both teaching music.

Kathy Becker and Owen Jordahl are teaching English and Maurice Sathoff is teaching business education at the Denver High School. Mary Ann Stille is teaching music and Dennis Finnell, history at Janesville. Teaching German and English at Plainfield are Jim Zeller and Kris Benedict, respectively.

Those at Nashua are Jim Hamer, mathematics; Donna Meyer, English; and Helene Kurtz, girl's physical education. Teaching in Hampton are Anne Ager and Sharon Jensen, girl's P.E. and Joan Schnor, English.

MARLENE BOYKEN teaches girl's physical education at Grundy Center. Those teaching at the Greene High School are Gerald Seifert, biology; Diane Anderson, business education; and Shirley Zellmer, English.

Grace Hemingson is teaching music at Clarksville and Gretchen Lindeman, also teaching music, is at Wellsburg.

Student teaching isn't all drudgery. Senior Marcia Rench and a group of third graders at the Carey School in Waverly find it can be fun, too.

Communication Clears Confusion

Communication between students and administration, and students and student government seems to have improved this year.

Perhaps it is still too early to tell whether these improvements will continue throughout the year, but they certainly have gotten off to a strong start.

In the past there has been a lot of confusion about what the administration does and the decisions it makes. Oftentimes this confusion has led to misunderstanding and much unnecessary complaining.

This year, however, things are looking up. Thursday's convocation was some indication of this tendency. In a 10-minute report, President Bachman answered questions which have been bothering many students since school started.

Several rumors have been floating around concerning the proposed addition to Clinton Hall, and the housing problem for women, but there was no definite answer to them. After Thursday's presidential report, we have these answers, and the rumors can stop.

Open forum convocations are often too long and too concerned with trivial matters, and sometimes come at the wrong time to deal with activities of the administration. Through the wise action of the Convocations Committee, we can look forward to more of the brief and informative sessions similar to the one presented Thursday.

Student government seems to be making many much-needed advances, too. After a year of much confusion and some complacency, vigorous actions have been taken from the start this year.

This issue of the Trumpet carries a story about the new policy towards student body meetings. Because of the less frequent meetings and more interesting formats, students are more likely to take a more active part in student body meetings.

An additional incentive lies in the fact that these meetings will be required.

Communication is a vital part of a college community. Through occasional presidential reports and student body meetings that accomplish something, perhaps we're making better progress toward a goal which has too long been neglected.

Everything about the season of autumn is associated with the word "fall": it is commonly called fall, leaves fall from the trees, football players fall on the gridiron, and as autumn progresses grades begin to fall.

A voter has a tough enough time seeing his way through the issues of a campaign without having his vision impaired by the mudslinging of candidates.

Where, oh, where did convocation go? A crowd of loyal Wartburgers waited faithfully, but, alas, nothing happened. The students made a mass exodus -- all were in a somber mood.

Isn't it great that we have such a nice "social center" as the library? Besides that, some people even study there.

It is a common practice for gamblers to lose their shirts. At Wartburg, however, we may lose our breeches instead.

Folkerts' Folly

Change Brings More Change

BY JIM FOLKERTS

For the most part, student social activity in the Student Memorial Union seems to have changed considerably from just last year. This should be of no great surprise, as most of the students at Wartburg are quite "alert," and are aware of the fact that the Union itself has changed considerably.

--o--

One of the greatest new features is the fact that there is more than one extrance and exit to the building. No longer do the great masses of people have to move in two directions through the same passageway.

OF COURSE, it did give one the feeling of being part of the group, but this year we seem to have many who desire to be individuals.

FOLKERTS

Also, after entering the Union, students are free to move around in all directions and to all areas without fear of flying bricks, cement, etc.

Once inside the Union, students can chase each other around all the new stairs that have been built. And there are so many new places to go.

THE NEW POST office, for example. Since it has been moved from the lounge, there have been no new reports of accidents. Oftentimes last year one could be relaxing quite comfortably only to be trampled by the stampeding convocation gang in search of mail. The new post office is much more convenient.

And the girls have a new "sociable" room by the new post office to take care of the "overflow" of mail seekers in the narrow hallway on that side.

--o--

There are new office rooms for those elite members of the Wartburg community who are in charge of the Union and its functions.

THERE IS a most desirable and necessary conference room, and a very beautiful special dining room (which resembles one of Waverly's business establishments).

There is also a separate television room with straight-back chairs so that people will sit up straight when they are watching television.

A new addition has been added to the "Castle Den" for those who enjoy more room with a bit of extra atmosphere.

Way down in the basement, or subterranean room, if you prefer, we have the game room, complete with new pool table coverings, new ping-pong balls and a new checkout counter.

PERHAPS HALF the student body has not yet seen the new game room. Everyone should definitely go down to see it because there is room for all with the added space.

The cafeteria has greatly changed, except for the lines and the food. A student now has the opportunity to break bread with just a select few instead of sitting at the pleasantly arranged rows of tables.

Actually, in this new method of arrangement the average Wartburg consumer does not have the opportunity to slop his food on as many people as he did in last year's caf.

Upstairs in the lounge we probably find the greatest change. The first change we notice is that the fine wood paneling has been removed with the addition of the new unit. Many more seating places are also available.

THE ATMOSPHERE is more that of a lounge, and we do not find as many "co-curricular" activities taking place here as there were last year. The colors are brighter, which fact helps us adjust to the more formal atmosphere.

In Fuchs Lounge, which has been changed back from an office, an extra large looking window has been added for the extra crowds that may assemble to watch the various activities sometimes held here.

--o--

Actually, if we look quite closely, we probably will discover that the social life in the Union is the same this year, but it just appears to be different under the new physical features.

Senate Adopts New Plan For Student Body Meetings

BY DAVE HUTSON
STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

The attendance at the student body meeting on Wednesday was very good, especially since there was not a meeting scheduled. Wednesday's confusion made it apparent that an article explaining the present administration's policy in respect to such meeting would be advantageous.

Student Senate has voted to inaugurate a plan whereby only two or three student body meetings will be scheduled per semester. This plan has been approved by the Convocation Committee.

THESE MEETINGS will follow the format of a regular convocation. They will last 50 minutes and attendance will be taken.

HUTSON

The first 10 to 15 minutes will be devoted to reports and discussion on important campus issues. The remainder of the time will be used to present an informative program in an area such as politics, student government, social life, faculty-student relations, etc.

It seems that student government should feel obligated to inform the student body, not only in respect to local politics, but also about state and national politics.

Also, topics of interest to the students which do not find a place in the regular convocation schedule should be brought before the students of the college. (For example, faculty evaluation, the validity of freshman initiation or social life at Wartburg are possible topics.)

PAST EXPERIENCE indicates that there are a limited number of times during the year when business alone demands a student body meeting. Homecoming, the Student Body Project, Pops Concerts and the Campus Chest campaign are examples of such times.

Previously, meetings scheduled for less eventful periods in the year have been either cancelled or dominated by insignificant forms of filler.

However, recognition must be given to the fact that the Student Body Constitution reserves the second Thursday of every month for a student body meeting. Under the newly adopted program, the right of the students to appeal for meetings in addition to scheduled meetings will be respected.

Harriers Win Triangular

Wartburg's Cross - country team continued on its winning ways Saturday by defeating Simpson and Central in a triangular at Indianola.

The score was Wartburg, 27; Central, 30; and Simpson 79.

WARTBURG WAS led by freshman Jon Thieman, who placed 2nd and had a time of 16:49. Gaylen Fick was a close 3rd, with a time of 16:52.

However, it was the over-all depth that again won the meet for the Knights as Jim Rasmuson placed 5th, Arlyn Ristau 8th, Mike Hughes 9th, Bruce Kettner 10th and Roger Stuffelbeam 11th.

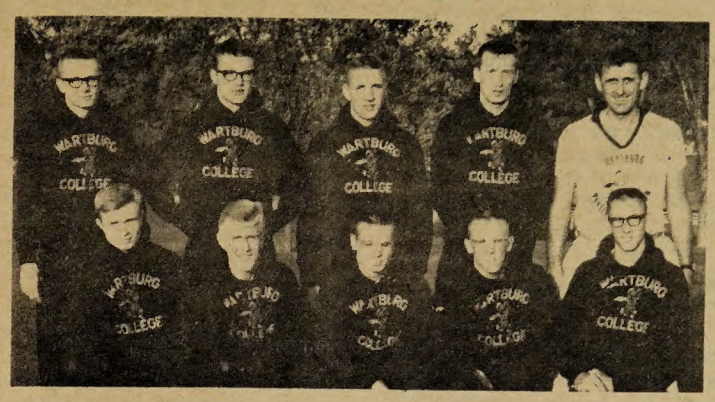
Today Wartburg is host to a High School Invitational Meet and Cross-country Clinic. The idea of the meet and clinic is to interest area schools in the cross-country program, which is still in its infancy in Iowa.

EIGHT SCHOOLS ran in the meet, which was divided into two classes, the large schools and the small schools. No team places were given, everyone running on an individual basis. The meet was preceded by a clinic at 9:30.

Wartburg's next meet will be against State College of Iowa on Oct. 6 at the Waverly Country Club. SCI was the only team able to defeat the Wartburg harriers last year. The score was 27 to 28.

Wartburg cross - country schedule for 1964 follows:

Oct. 3, High School Invitational Meet and Cross - country Clinic, Here
Oct. 6, SCI, Here
Oct. 10, Loras, Here
Oct. 14, Luther, There
Oct. 17, Platteville, There
Oct. 24, Central, Winona, Wm. Penn, Here
Oct. 31, Conference Meet, Here
Nov. 7, Mankato State, Here
Nov. 14, NCAA College Meet, Wheaton, Ill.



Exuberant from their first two wins, Coach John Kurtt and his cross-country team take time out to pose for a picture before continuing practice for the SCI meet Tuesday.

Jo Changes Offense

BY BILL GLITZ

Returning home after throwing a scare into Augustana last Saturday, the Wartburg Knights faced Iowa Conference opponent Upper Iowa this afternoon in Schield Stadium.

Coach Norm Johansen, pleased with his defensive unit, has been experimenting with the offensive backfield. Junior Roger Kittleson has moved from his quarterback spot to halfback, and junior Dick Basham has taken over as signal caller in practices this week.

COACH JOHANSEN wasn't certain that he would open this way this afternoon, but he commented that he "would like to take advantage of Kittleson's running ability."

Jo continued, "There definitely will be changes on the offensive team this week. The defense played an outstanding game. Last week Ron Mennen (who blocked a punt to set up Wartburg's only touchdown) turned in the outstanding single performance of the afternoon.

"I was also pleased with the job of the freshmen. (Doug) Sires, (Rick) Hauk and (Ron) Walther turned in outstanding jobs on defense. The freshmen caused some weaknesses because of mistakes, but this was only to be expected."

MENNEN, LYLE WIND and Paul Anderson received minor bumps and bruises in the Augustana game, but Jo believes that all three will be ready to play this afternoon. Still missing from the Knight line-up will be guard Gerry Schrader and end Aivars Zosulius.

Upper Iowa has almost its entire squad back from last year plus several transfers whom Johansen calls "improvements." "They have a good, if not the best, backfield in the Iowa Conference." he added.

Larry Nemmers, Peacock swift back, is setting a torrid pace in the Iowa Conference rushing statistics. Last week against Iowa Wesleyan he ran 21 yards a carry and led his team to an easy victory.

"UPPER IOWA CAN be stopped with good blocking and tackling," Johansen maintained, but we must eliminate our mistakes. We moved against them last year, and if mistakes are eliminated, we can do the same this year."

Knights remain at home next weekend to take on an improved Iowa Wesleyan team at Schield Stadium. (KWAR-FM, 1:15 CST)

North Tromps Clinton Ground

North Hall and Alpha - Married Men teams were victorious in the opening flag football games of the IM season last Saturday.

Freshman Tom Smith led North Hall to a 51-0 victory over Clinton Basement. Standout on defense for North Hall was senior Andy Schmidt. Although several individuals performed well, Clinton lacked the organization needed to win.

Alpha-Married Men eked out a 2-0 victory over Clinton III. The battle featured only two strong defensive teams. Only score in the game was a safety, made when a Clinton runner was tackled in the end zone.

Tuesday's contests had to be rescheduled because of Outfly.

Langrock Returns To Accept Award

Dave Langrock, who helped lead the Knights to third place in the NAIA baseball tournament in St. Joseph, Mo., last spring, returned to the Wartburg campus this afternoon to be presented an award for being named an all-tournament player.

The award was given Langrock between halves of the Upper Iowa - Wartburg football game. Langrock pitched and played first base last season for the Knights. After completing his college career, he signed a contract with the Chicago Cubs.

Becker's Blunders

Team Deserves Better Fate

BY MIKE BECKER

After having been torn limb from limb by hoards of trombone players, sweet cheerleaders and dissatisfied football players, I am ready to ride again. Last week criticism flowed from this eloquent quill only to be followed this week by plaudits.

--o--

In talking to numerous football players, I heard anywhere from 5 to 15 men singled out for praise, with the greatest share of them being members of the German Keglers, the Knights' ace defensive team.

BECKER

SINGLED OUT at the linebacking positions were "Buster" Mennen and Gayle Newlon for their tremendous defensive work. With many savage tackles, Paul Anderson, playing defensive halfback, made his college debut a successful one.

The freshmen helped man the Keglers' platoon and did a bang-up job for the limited college experience they possess. Singled out among them were Adams and Alexander in the Keglers' line along with Sires ih the Keglers' defensive backfield.

--o--

This was a game which saw the Knights ahead for all but four minutes, those four being the last and the most important of the game. Again our inability to work up a potent offense, along with our continued punting troubles, spelled our demise.

ON THE OFFENSIVE team, Jim Renning, given a chance to run, picked up 80 yards for his efforts. However, the offensive team let the Keglers down at several crucial points with missed snaps and number trouble in the signals.

This was really a heartbreaker to lose. The footballers deserved a better fate than a 9-7 loss.

--o--

Flag football, or "maim your downstairs neighbor," has opened another year for the IM season. There appear to be many strong teams on the gridiron again this year. Ketha will be out to maintain its perfect record of last year.

NORTH HALL is fielding a heavy team with a strong running attack. Vollmer House hopes to capitalize on the passing arm of John Mantey. Off-campus figures to have another big, tough team.

A surprise addition to flag football this year was Centennial Hall, fielding a team of fast, shifty backs. It could be an interesting year.

Debate To Open Emphasis Month

A mock election and a special convocation will highlight Political Emphasis Month on campus during October. Campus political organizations are making final preparations for the event.

Setting the mood, the Iowa chairman representatives of the Young Democrats and Young Republicans will debate "Election Issues '64" before a special political convocation in the Chapel-auditorium Thursday.

Vance Opperman of Grinnell College will present the Democratic case, whereas Frank Koykar of Loras College, Dubuque, will take the GOP stand. Student Body President Dave Hutson will serve as moderator.

Debates and discussion groups of the Young Democratic and Young Republican organizations on campus will continue to bring the campaign issues before the Wartburg community during the month, and Political Emphasis Month will culminate in a mock election.

The mock election of a national ticket is slated for the last week in October. Wartburg's Young Democrat president, senior Randy Marsh, is primarily responsible for planning Political Emphasis Month on campus.

Marine Officer Team To Be Here Monday

Marine Corps Officer Selection Team will be in the Student Union Monday to give the officer selection test and to interview students interested in earning Marine Corps commissions.

Capt. R. W. Badeker, officer selection officer, will be interviewing interested men. First Lt. Mary L. Heigel will interview junior and senior women for the Women Officer Candidate course.

Fortress Pictures Are This Week

Upper-classman pictures will be taken next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for the Wartburg Fortress.

Senior portraits will be taken for the three days, but sophomores and juniors can have pictures taken only on Tuesday and Wednesday. Sittings will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m., according to Marvin Ackerman, Fortress editor.

SIGN-UP SHEETS for senior portraits are located across from the dean of students' office, and all seniors should designate the time they prefer to have their pictures taken.

The following schedule will be used for sophomores and juniors: A-G, 8 a.m. to noon Tuesday; H-M, 1 to 4 p.m., Tuesday; N-S, 8 a.m. to noon Wednesday; T-Z, 1 to 4 p.m., Wednesday.

Those students who cannot come at the designated time are asked to come at another time.

SENIOR PORTRAIT sittings are $3. The fee for the sophomores and juniors is $1.

Organization pictures will be taken Tuesday and Wednesday night.

Dance Tonight Ends Hoedown

Hoedown Weekend festivities continue tonight with a dance in the Little Theater. A square dance callers convention being held this weekend in Wisconsin has brought about a change of plans as to the type of music which will be played.

Original plans were to hold a square dance to coincide with the general theme of Hoedown Weekend, but because of the convention a regular dance has been scheduled in its place.

The dance will bring to a close activities begun last evening with the Grossmann Hall hayride and a movie sponsored by Clinton Hall.

Music tonight will be furnished by KWAR beginning at 8 p.m. Casual attire is appropriate. Admission is set at 25 cents for singles and 40 cents for couples.

Meetings for Debate Held on Tues., Thurs.

All students interested in debate are invited by Donald Douglas, Speech Department, to try out. Meetings will be held every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. in Room 105 Luther Hall.

Wartburg debaters have received invitations to several tournaments to be held this year.

These include the University of Chicago Debate Tournament; Wayne State University Tournament in Detroit, Mich.; and the Midwest Debate Tournament at Missouri State College.
